Large sums of the public money were losned to various persons, banks and bankers, and are still unarailable. And in the matter of canal contracts under consideration, there is another loss to the State of $321,905. This is the spectacle that greets our eyes-the result of immunity heretofore enjoyed by these who have betrayed their trusts. If the time has not yet arrivel, and this is not the occasion for Legfelative action, through, energetic, decisive, can any one tell when the time will come, and what scheme, fraught with danger and disgrace to the State, will be sufficient to justify it? So much upon this subject, sir. And would resume my seat was there not one other topic with respect to which I ought to say a word. It is claimed that we are running the Republican party upon the breakers, and that unless we stay our hand it will be ruinsal. I admit that the Republican party is responsible for the action of the legislature, and shis is an additional reason, with me, why we should take such action in the premises as will receive the sauction of the people of the State. But I believe they will most likely approve our course if we do justice. I would do nothing which will demoralize

If there was origin in a new developement of democracy, as is cropped out in the Kansas-Nebraska Bill, This was not pro-slavery Democracy run mad, as some supposed, but pro-slavery in full flower, or rather, I should say, bearing legitimate fruit. And the audacity, the falsehood and treachery in which that bill was conceived, and which triumphed in its passage is about to culminate in the establishing of slavery in that region which our fathers gation to Congress! thought they had secured as a heritage of freedom. Every indication points to this result. and that region secured to slavery, the incomforeshadowed in that brigand document, the a fainting traitor. Away! Away!! "Ostend Letter." Its only check in its proslavery aggressiv. policy, is the Republican party. And I depricate any action on our part litical corruption. in no other way can it be true to its mission and fulfil the hopes and fall into the embraces of its avowed enemies and false friends, and be guided by their treacherous counsels, its history will soon have been written.
